20% Qualified Income Deduction for Owner of Flow-Through

Impacts owners of sole proprietorships directly reported on Schedule C, rental activity reported directly on Schedule E, S corporations and partnerships effective January 1, 2018.

The business must be conducted in the U.S. to qualify, and qualified business income (QBI) is thought as ordinary, non-investment income of the business. QBI would not include reasonable compensation received from an S corporation or guaranteed payments received from a partnership.

Restrictions exist for a specified service trade or business which include: services in the fields of health, law, accounting, consulting, financial and brokerage, and any trade or business where the principal asset is the reputation or skill of the employees or owners.

The deduction is limited to the LESSOR of:

- 20% of qualified business income, or
- 50% of the total W-2 wages paid by the business

There is also an alternative limitation allocable to 25% of wages plus 2.5% of the unadjusted basis.

20% Qualified Income Deduction for Owner of Flow-Through

The 50% of W-2 wage limitation does not apply if Taxable Income of owner is less than the following:

Wage Limitation
Single	$157,500
Married	$315,000

Wage Limit Phase – In (Service Businesses)
Single	$207,500
Married	$415,000

For specified service businesses, if your taxable income is between the phase-in threshold and the full exclusion from QBI threshold—meaning between $157,500 and $207,500 for single filers, and between $315,000 and $415,000 for joint-filers—you would exclude only a percentage of income.

$$Applicable percentage = \frac{Excess \ of \ Taxable \ Income \ over \ Phase-In}{Full \ Exclusion \ threshold}$$

Examples – Nonservice Business

Example 1: A married taxpayer, operates a business as a sole proprietor. The business has one employee, who is paid $50,000 during 2018. The business has no significant assets. During 2018, the business generates $200,000 of income, and the taxpayer's total taxable income, after deductions, is $215,000. The taxpayer is entitled to a deduction of $40,000 ($200,000 * 20%).

The "W-2 wage limitation," which would normally be $25,000 ($50,000 * 50%), does not apply because taxpayer's taxable income is less than $315,000.

Example 2: Now assume all facts remain the same, except the business generates $400,000 of income to the taxpayer, and after deductions, his taxable income if $450,000. In this case, the taxpayer's deduction is limited to $25,000, the LESSER OF:

- 20% of $400,000, or $80,000, or
- 50% of W-2 wages of $50,000, or $25,000.

Case Study 1: High Income Business

Sole Proprietorship: The taxpayer has no employees; rather, he hires a few independent contractors. With income of $500,000 reported on Schedule C, the deduction would be limited the lesser of 20% of qualified business income (QBI) or 50% of wages. The taxpayer gets no deduction.

- 20% of $500,000 = $100,000
- 50% of W-2 wage $0 = $0

S Corporation: As a wholly owned S corp., the taxpayer pays himself $125,000 in wages (assume reasonable). This reduces his flow-through income from $500,000 to $375,000. The taxpayer gets a deduction of $62,500.

- 20% of $375,000, or $75,000, or
- 50% of W-2 wages of $125,000, or $62,500.

Partnership: The taxpayer owner 99% and his wife 1%the taxpayer. He compensates himself through guaranteed payment of $125,000. The taxpayers QBI is $375,000. QBI does not include guaranteed payments. The taxpayer gets no deduction.

- 20% of $375,000, or $75,000, or
- 50% of W-2 wages of $0, or $0.

Case Study 2: Low Income Business

Sole Proprietorship: The taxpayer has no employees; rather, he hires a few independent contractors. Income of $200,000 is reported on Schedule C. Because the taxpayer's income is below the threshold of $315,000, the wage limitation does not apply. The taxpayer gets the full deduction of $40,000 (20% of $200,000).

S Corporation: As a wholly owned S corp., the taxpayer pays himself $80,000 in wages (assume reasonable). This reduces his flow-through income from $200,000 to $120,000. Because the flow-through income is below the threshold of $315,000, the wage limitation does not apply. The taxpayer is entitled to claim a deduction of $24,000 (20% of $120,000).

Partnership: The taxpayer owner 99% and his wife 1%the taxpayer. He compensates himself through guaranteed payment of $80,000. The taxpayers QBI is $120,000. Because the flow-through income is below the threshold of $315,000, the wage limitation does not apply. The taxpayer is entitled to claim a deduction of $24,000 (20% of $120,000).

Specified Service Business Calculation Wage Limitation Phase-In

- Step One Calculate the applicable percentage. You do that by taking your taxable income, subtracting the threshold limitation amount and then divide that by $50,000 ($100,000 MFJ). This result is subtracted from 100% to give you the applicable percentage. In this case, the applicable percentage is 65%, calculated as 100% minus that amount. [($175,000 $157,500)/$50,000 = 35%].
- Step Two Determine includible qualified business income, multiply $100,000 (Schedule C income or K1 income) by 65%, or $65,000. This amount is then multiplied by the 20% deduction and results in a potential deduction of $13,000.
- Step Three Determine includible W-2 wages, multiply $120,000 (wages) by 65%, or $78,000 and then apply the 50% limitation, resulting in a wage limitation of $39,000.
- Step Four Your deduction is the lesser of Step Two or Step Three. In this case, the 20% of QBI deduction is the lower of the two, $13,000.
